Pioneer in Luxury hospitality

Luxury and the art of hosting have always been an integral part of Monaco. L'Hôtel de Paris was the first hotel in the world to offer hot water in its rooms: a quote attributed to François Blanc, who was then chair of the “Société des Bains de Mer”, still rings true today: "A hotel which surpasses everything which has been created so far, I want people to talk about the Hotel de Paris as a wonder..." Nowadays, while hot water, of course, no longer represents a unique selling point, it defined the Principality's pioneering side in the field of art of hosting, applying to the letter Mr. Blanc's instruction: "Here we must supply dreams, pleasures and beauty"

Elegance is an attitude

Entirely dedicated to wellness, the Spa Métropole by Givenchy is also intended to reflect a maxim of Mr. Hubert de Givenchy himself, according to which "The secret of elegance is to look like you are being yourself" A thought which meets that of Karl Lagerfeld for whom elegance was a story of attitude: The famous German fashion designer and photographer was behind the ODYSSEY, since he conceived and designed this exceptional setting with its garden, a swimming pool, a lounge-bar and a restaurant.

Proportionally the space occupied by wellness in Monaco is very significant as it is equivalent to one and a half football pitches for a country smaller than Hyde Park in London or Central Park in New York!

Two dates

1920 - The year the International Congress of Thalassotherapy was held in Monaco 25 years after the opening of the pioneer of the discipline: “Les Thermes Marins Monte-Carlo” encouraged by Prince Albert I is a proof of the historic and unwavering connections between wellness and the Principality. Thus, in the Official Journal of Monaco dated 27th April 1920, we read the opening speech of the Congress delivered by an Italian Senator and Professor of the time, Prof. Edouard Maragliano: “This meeting, I firmly hope, will enjoy the encouragement which crowned the first […], thanks to the High Patronage of the Scholar Prince, who - having questioned the mysteries of the ocean, having revealed them with the light of a science of which He is master, having devoted a temple to them in this Museum which will forever recall His name down the centuries - wanted to see revealed before His very eyes the benefits which man can draw from the sea, through medicine.”

2014 - The year a tribute concert to the art of Beethoven, Brahms and Chopin were organised in “Les Thermes Marins” when this wellness haven closed for an extensive renovation. It was a great opportunity to transform this exceptional venue into a cultural pop-up venue. This unprecedented concert was thus organised and the renowned pianist Stefan Cassar performed all those classical key pieces. An unprecedented setting for a moment which was just as unprecedented!

Two key figures

-110°C – The lowest temperature you can get in the Principality. Three minutes at -110°C after "heating up" in a chamber at -60°C for ten seconds that is the programme! This rare wellness experience called cryotherapy is supported by top sports champions to recover from many pathologies, increase energy & improve the quality of sleep. This State-of-the-art technology is available at “Les Thermes Marins”

300 - The number of days of sunshine per year in Monaco. This exceptional number was the origin of the first flows of travellers coming to the “Côte d’Azur” with the English being our first visitors as they came on holiday on the Riviera to enjoy an exceptional climate and setting. Today, the 300 days of Monegasque sunshine can, in part, explain why the Principality as one of longest life expectancy in Europe.

Gourmet Terraces

By the Sea

Having a good time on a terrace overlooking the sea and sharing these moments along with the people you love; that is what we call a memorable stay. The Principality has a great selection of places full of serenity where delight and inspiration are the key words. Many haven of peace where you can sit, particularly along its two marinas where it is so good to enjoy the local life, starting with Port Hercule.

Located in the extension of the Monaco Yacht Club designed by Foster & Partners, a short walk from the fastest point of the Formula one circuit, the “Société Nautique restaurant” offers a relaxing moment with your feet in the water including a potential Mediterranean splash! Extending your walk along the super yachts moored on the “Quai des États-Unis” to the sailing yachts facing the “Route de la Piscine” the “Brasserie de Monaco” invites you to enjoy the taste its local beer in a very relaxed and festive atmosphere. Around these shores the restaurants background music merges with the sound of halyards slapping on the masts for a cocktail of sound pairing deliciously with the real one served at your table.

Extending your walk along the super yachts moored on the “Quai des États-Unis” to the sailing yachts facing the “Route de la Piscine” the “Brasserie de Monaco” invites you to enjoy the taste its local beer in a very relaxed and festive atmosphere. Around these shores the restaurants background music merges with the sound of halyards slapping on the masts for a cocktail of sound pairing deliciously with the real one served at your table. A few step away on “Quai Antoine-1er” facing the “Casino de Monte-Carlo” promontory, the Stars’n’bars family-friendly restaurant and sports bar offers eco-friendly menu with vegan and gluten-free options. Eclectic by nature, the Principality has two ports on its territory; each has its own character.

The Port of Fontvieille invites you to walk down from the Rock (“Le Rocher”) where the local boats mingle with the latest generation of sailing or motorised vessels. The setting is different; the atmosphere is more intimate and local and definitely full of charm and authenticity. Followed by the calls of the “Gabians” (Local Seagulls), enjoying themselves between the “Monaco Ville” and the “Quai Jean-Charles Rey”, with the renowned Oceanographic Museum and the Cathedral as worthy sentinels over the waves; travellers instinctively will easily find a table to enjoy the spectacle on offer. Here, again, there are several atmospheres to choose from: from a local Italian institution that is “La Salière” to a friendly wine bar “Le Rouge et Le Blanc”, and many other options there is something for everyone. While lovers of a proper British pub will certainly visit the Ship & Castle, the most curious one will discover the flavours of exceptional oysters born in Brittany but raised in the Principality at “Les Perles de Monte-Carlo”; this unformal restaurant located at the end of the breakwater is a corner of Brittany right under the Mediterranean sun, really worth it! Along its blue coastline, between amazing walks punctuated with some relaxing breaks on the way, enjoying either glass of wine or a fantastic dish, Monaco lets you discover some new experiences. Between Port Hercule and Port of Fontvieille, the Mediterranean Sea is always a part of Monaco DNA.

Iconic Squares

The Principality can also inspire calm even when hearing the heartbeats of the city with local life teeming, you always discover a corner of a colourful little narrow streets huddled against the Prince’s Palace or around the flavour-filled fruit and vegetable stalls of the Condamine Market. The most picturesque attraction is the daily morning traditional market located at the iconic “Place d’armes”. To start your day under the best auspices and promises why not joining the Monegasques in the morning in this colourful market, when they are thinking about the dishes they will be cooking later. In the indoor food market called “La Halle Gourmande” you enjoy local dishes such as “Barbagiuàn” (Pastry made of swiss chard, spinach, ricotta, Parmigiana, onions and leek) or “Fougasse” (A sweet red & white dough with orange decorated with nuts raisins and anise) along the diverse outdoor stalls to choose your fresh flowers, fruit and vegetables.

The few “café” terraces scattered around the square are the place to be for those who want to get to know better the local life & Mediterranean characters and soak it up. A place for living and trading so essential in the Principality for more than 120 years now, that a few years ago the locals expressed their wish to open “La Halle Gourmande” in the evening also.

A short walk and you are on the stairs of the “Rampe Majeure” which climb to the Rock and open directly to the “Place du Palais”. The view becomes increasingly that of a fairy tale the higher you climb to the Prince’s Palace square keeping further surprises as it offers open perspectives and sublime panoramic views on either side of the esplanade. The Port Hercule on one side with the “Casino de Monte-Carlo” with France and Italy in the background; the Port of Fontvieille on the other side with the aesthetic arcades of the Louis-II Stadium, the first hills of the coast which stretch into the distance: the postcard setting is there and it will be difficult to leave it behind! Every problem has a solution: in the shade of the pine trees, overlooking the Fontvieille district, the “Place du Palais” home since 1953 to the Castelroc restaurant, which welcomes you to its conservatory facing the Prince’s Palace or its terrace with stunning views. This restaurant, known to every local, is part of the Principality’s history and knows how to bring your taste buds to life with its traditional local dishes, such as the “Stockfish de Rosette.” And do not forget what they say about Le Castelroc in Monaco: “If Monegasque cuisine has a touch of the divine, it is because up there on the “Rocher”, you are certainly a bit closer to paradise ...”

A digestive walk will enable travellers to discover the narrow alleys and picturesque little squares to which the district is home, such as “Place Saint-Nicolas”. Surrounded by the Monaco Courthouse, a sublime building from 1924, and the Cathedral, which captivates visitors and locals alike, the Place allows you to admire it, keep calm and take a photo! Visit its little sister, “Placette Don Pacchiero”, named after the former priest of Saint-Nicolas. At a table in one of the many restaurants and cafés on these squares, it's easy to forget time. It is time to leave, going down from “Monaco-Ville” by the “Porte-Neuve” and feast your eyes again before coming to the district of Monte-Carlo.
A witness to local life since the mid-19th century, following Prince Charles III’s decision to create a gaming establishment as well as the Hotel de Paris, The Casino square has also reflected Monegasque activity and outreach for a century and a half. In 2020 the legendary square revealed its new face, offering an open modern space to walkers, completely re-thought for the pleasure and comfort of visitors. The new perspective and the path lined with palm trees celebrate summer all year round and instantly invite you to stroll. While the Place remains open to traffic, to leave the Monaco Grand Prix track intact each May so the beautiful cars can be admired, a great part of it now gives more space to pedestrians. Now it is your chance to enjoy a fully deserved break on the terrace of the “Café de Paris”! Under the sun, adjoining the legendary “Belle Époque” architecture of the “Casino de Monte-Carlo” and the iconic facade of the legendary “Hôtel de Paris”, enjoy to the full the experiences that only Monaco knows can give!

Delightful Walks

Shopping and Garden Moments

It has been proven true: we always feel better when window shopping! The more so when this activity is punctuated by walks through gardens of absolute serenity or with stunning panoramic sea views. Such is the case in “Monaco-Ville” where gift shops display their souvenir and goods which we always want to take back with us from Monaco, and then comes the moment to combine spending with relaxing. Extend your shopping moment with a walk to the “Jardins Saint-Martin”. Originally typically Mediterranean, this green setting has subsequently been complemented by exotic species offering visitors as many surprising trees as exceptional views of the deep blue sea. Travellers will continue their walk along the edge of the Mediterranean in front of the imposing façade of the Oceanographic Museum before reaching the “Terrasse des prisons” (below Monaco’s prison) which unexpectedly are welcoming and relaxing. The blue horizon still stretches as far as the eye can see and makes a perfect combination with the green of the vegetation as you arrive at “Fort Antoine”. Far from the tumult and as peaceful as you could wish, this was once a fortress, which now serves as an outdoor theatre hosting full-scale performances and shows.

A shopping moment now continues in the Fontvieille district which was entirely regained from the sea. Near the Port of Fontvieille, in the shade of the Rock, the Fontvieille shopping centre and its 37 shops await all visitors as do their surrounding gardens. Starting with the UNESCO garden, where sculptures by artists succeed the floral arches to offer an enchanting setting over the Marina, an open-air exhibition which is freely accessible, where flowers, trees and fountains combine on the balcony of the Port of Fontvieille. To continue the walk, Fontvieille Park, which encircles the Big Top hosting each year the Monte-Carlo International Circus Festival, gives the district a large green space which is very much appreciated by families and locals. Here again, adjoining the Princess Grace Rose Garden many works of art are scattered throughout the park, it features a landscaped pond that is home to many species so do not be surprised if you meet a family of ducks or geese out for a walk: here there are at home!

Green, blue and exclusive shops can also be found at One Monte-Carlo, a brand new fashion district in the heart of the Monte-Carlo. In this exclusive living space which is completely car-free, located between the Hotel Hermitage and the Casino Square High-end luxury brands have come together. High fashion, accessories, hairdressing salon, Beauty shops & restaurants surrounds the “Promenade Princesse Charlotte” a new car-free area lined with trees. Here you find as well a patio dedicated to exclusive jewellers inside the Hotel de Paris: make your shopping experience unique! A real breath of air right in the heart of Monaco, nature is present everywhere, down to the smallest details. Princess Grace once planted a tree here: planners and architects have met the challenge of integrating it into the landscape of One Monte-Carlo. While the architectural project is extravagant and aesthetic, it is, nevertheless a fully sustainable development. By crossing the “Jardin du Casino”, visitors reach the “Jardin de la Petite Afrique”, so called because of the tropical species, strengthened by its trees with their outside aerial roots. A real change of scenery is the magnificent Métropole Shopping Centre with its period chandeliers and precious materials, such as Carrara marble and Bohemian crystal and its 80 shops and 5 restaurants helping you to escape into a world of refinement and glamour.

Shops are also within sight on the Condamine district, where quiet alleys highlight their colourful houses from the beginning of the last century. From the charming “Rue de Millo” to the pleasant “Rue Caroline”, which is completely car-free, to the “Promenade Honoré II”, the 200 shops will charm visitors with the diversity of the products on offer in this historic district. Combine quality with conviviality and discover this slice of authenticity in the heart of the Principality!

To close your shopping extravaganza coupled with your walks through greenery, there is nothing like the “Jardin Japonais”: A stylised copy of a Japanese landscape, with its mountain, its waterfall, its lakes, its stream and even its koi carp, the garden is a work of art produced in accordance with Zen thinking. The place, created in 1994 at the request of Prince Rainier III and located in the Larvotto district, is imbued with a special atmosphere and invites you to the most complete relaxation. For an escape to the land of the rising sun in the centre of the Principality, here is where you have to be! All along this road, the “Avenue Princesse Grace” displays lavish car dealerships and luxury shops in front of which we can always dream and dawdle.

From Souvenir shops to leading names in the fashion industry, to carefully decorated shopping centres and varied shopping arcades, everything you want is here in Monaco. And since green spaces represent 20% of Monaco territory, you may as well enjoy it too, for a real break that you will remember for a long time!
Delight in Monaco can also be understood through the prism of its unique museums and monuments, and there is everything you need to catch your breath!

It's certainly the case at the Oceanographic Museum, which encourages dreams with its thousands of tropical and Mediterranean fish species and raises awareness regarding the preservation of sea life and its protection which is so important for HSH Prince Albert II of Monaco. Share a moment in front of the turtle rehabilitation pool, facing the sea, and find out also about their Malian cousins gifted to HSH Prince Albert II, at risk of extinction and enjoying a more conducive environment. The tip is to end your visit by going up to the roof-terrace which offers a magnificent 360° panorama, where the Mediterranean and the Principality are revealed at the same time to be one and all. Find yourself in an ocean of peace; take the museum’s immersive and interactive experience, plunging into the Great Barrier Reef to meet its most iconic species.

To continue combining a cultural visit and peaceful contemplation, the Jardin Exotique District has several advantages. NMNM-Villa Paloma, known as “Villa Coquette” (Pretty Villa) by its first owner, raises three floors high and looks over the Principality from its white beauty, snuggled up at the heart of a pleasant garden where you can rest. The museum offers several exhibitions per year and promotes a little-known heritage and collection from the contemporary scene on the theme "art and territory." Soak up the temporary exhibition by Shimabuku on The 165-metre Mermaid and other stories which recount the adventures of the artist-walker and his encounters along the water across the world.

A close neighbour which gives pride of place to our long shared history is: the Museum of Prehistoric Anthropology. Founded in 1902 by Prince Albert I "to preserve the traces of primitive humanity extracted from the soil of the Principality and surrounding regions" it is the oldest museum in the Principality. The museum transports visitors through the ages thanks to the collections on display, which help us to retrace the major stages of mankind's development, and its new exhibition Monarcheo: An Archaeological exploration of the History of Monaco, from ancient pre-history to modern times. Do not forget to end on the terrace of the building where you discover another view of the Principality.

To continue the experience, the Botanical Centre of the exotic garden will welcome you to its greenhouses which contain the biggest collections of cactus and succulent plants in the world, more than 10,000 in total! Its glass and iron structure rising on three levels is a perfect haven of peace, a bubble of tranquillity for lovers of escape and relaxation.

To visit to all these places and move freely around the Principality, several options are available: With its double-decker bus the “Monaco Le Grand Tour” allows you to explore Monaco in a different way enabling you to get on and off freely at each of its 12 stops across the city. Another option is a non-stop circuit aboard a small red and white train the Monaco Tours starting just in front of Oceanographic Museum. For visitors who wish to make their transport fully carbon-free while exercising the Monabike scheme with its 42 self-service electric-assisted bicycle stations scattered across the country are the ideal solution. You can as easily interrupt your experience with a sailing break, crossing Port Hercule on a solar electric bus boat. A pleasant way of connecting the two banks at the heart of the Principality!

Spas

Well-being and Monaco have a long lasting history. In 1863 the “Société des Bains de Mer” was born together with one of the biggest thalassotherapy centre decided to wellness. It was then natural that the International Congress of the discipline took place here in 1920. Since then, the Principality has been constantly evolving and reinventing itself while remaining faithful to its DNA, in which wellness figures prominently. Today, more than ten places scattered around the Principality are fully dedicated to relaxation.

At Monte-Carlo Beach the Tigre Monte-Carlo is a promise of delight and magical escape combining Ayurveda with yoga, meditation and Pilates classes all conducted on the hotel private jetty. And to reconnect with the elements of nature there is nothing better than enjoying the unique treatments of this spa with the “Massage du Tigre” so powerful and reinvigorating. To savour the moment we highly recommend the organic juice bar which is a short walk away.

By the Sea, Monte-Carlo Bay Hotel & Resort offers a scene-changing experience with the Spa Cinq Mondes. A place of absolute peace dedicated to treatments for body & Mind, the spalavishes beauty rituals and traditional massages in perfect accordance with ancestral ceremonies. And since delight also comes through exercise, the aqua yoga classes in the hotel's covered swimming pool nestled in a tropical garden will certainly be memorable.

Another relaxing inspiration: the Fairmont Monte Carlo helps to de-stress and fully relax thanks to Carol Joy Spa, located on the roof of the hotel. Between the sky and the sea, visitors are drawn into the modern and elegant space influenced by marine elements. Sitting comfortably in a cozy lounge in warm colours, you can relax for a while before going to a special treatment area where everything has been thought out to bring you calm and serenity. Around the Casino square discover the unique Spa Métropole by Givenchy where you will be utterly pampered in its exceptional setting designed by Architect Didier Gomez. Each care ritual is “Haute Couture” creation offering a sensory and singular signature. An experience to live also at “Les Thermes Marins”, facing the sea you let yourself carried into this haven of peace & luxury with prestigious partners enabling them to provide healthy slimming and customised anti-ageing treatments. There is nothing better as a treat for yourself as a lovely break, to recharge your batteries and restore a state of pure wellness.

FAQ

➢ Green spaces & gardens within the Principality?

For years, the development of green spaces has stood out as a necessity for the present & the future and is high on the agenda of the Prince’s Government. Many green spaces and gardens are scattered across the Principality, offering a more pleasant living environment for its inhabitants and visitors.

Today, it is easy to translate this green policy into significant numbers:
from the gardens of St. Martin and Fort Antoine from Monaco-Ville to the “Jardins de la Petite Afrique” from “Les Boulingrins” to the Casino garden from the “Parc Princesse Antoinette” to the “Jardin Exotique”
From the landscape park of Fontvieille and the “Jardin Japonais
Only to mention the most obvious examples, gardens and parks occupy 470,000 m² representing more than 20% of the Principality’s territory.

With such statistics and compared to the number of inhabitants, Monaco is among the top list as leading the green city/country in Europe!

➢ Is access to swimming pools and spas open to everyone?

Treating yourself to the luxury of a day in a hotel establishment and enjoying what is on offer is, indeed, open to everyone, residents of the Principality or visitors!
What progress has been made with the transformation of Le Larvotto district?

Since 2019, the work has been going on in full swing on “Le Larvotto” seaside site project. The architectural concept designed by Renzo Piano - famous for designing many cultural institutions across the world - reveals an airy promenade on the surface and a shopping area free from any façade, allowing the 16 shops and businesses which will open to visitors to open directly to the sea.

In this new seaside area, combining strolling and shopping, walkers can take advantage of a children's playground, a fitness trail, an upper terrace serving as a viewpoint, a relaxation area, a promenade shaded by a pergola covered with photovoltaic panels, the re-appearance of a fountain which will be well known to regular visitors, as well as a kilometre of a cycle track, set up away from car traffic. A part of “Le Larvotto” will re-open from 1st July. Visitors can enjoy restaurants, private beaches, ice-cream parlours and other shops for a unique moment of delight and relaxation.
